Old Time Days Picnic Readied For July Fourth

Another Fourth of July picnic is set for the patriotic holiday at the Green Sport Park at Washington and Alton in Lemon Grove.

The day-long Tuesday holiday "shindig" will feature country-western and modern music by Bill Tabor and his group, games for kids, free refreshments, door prizes and entertainment of various kinds. Festivities start at 10 a.m. and will close down about 6 p.m., according to Don McCray, chairman.

Admission is free and picnickers should bring their own lunch.

The picnic is sponsored by the Lemon Grove Old Time Days Association.

District Plans Surplus Sale

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and agreed to join a county-wide system for unemployment insurance, approved a surplus school equipment sale, and heard a report on the Imperial-80 planned residential development.

The unemployment system was brought about when it was decided that school district employees are entitled to unemployment insurance. The local district had the choice of financing the system or allowing the county department of education to handle it through a special county-wide tax.

It is believed that the county-wide tax method would be the best approach economically and trustees agreed.

A list of items considered to be surplus to the district's needs was presented to trustees for approval in a special auction of outdated or unneeded equipment.

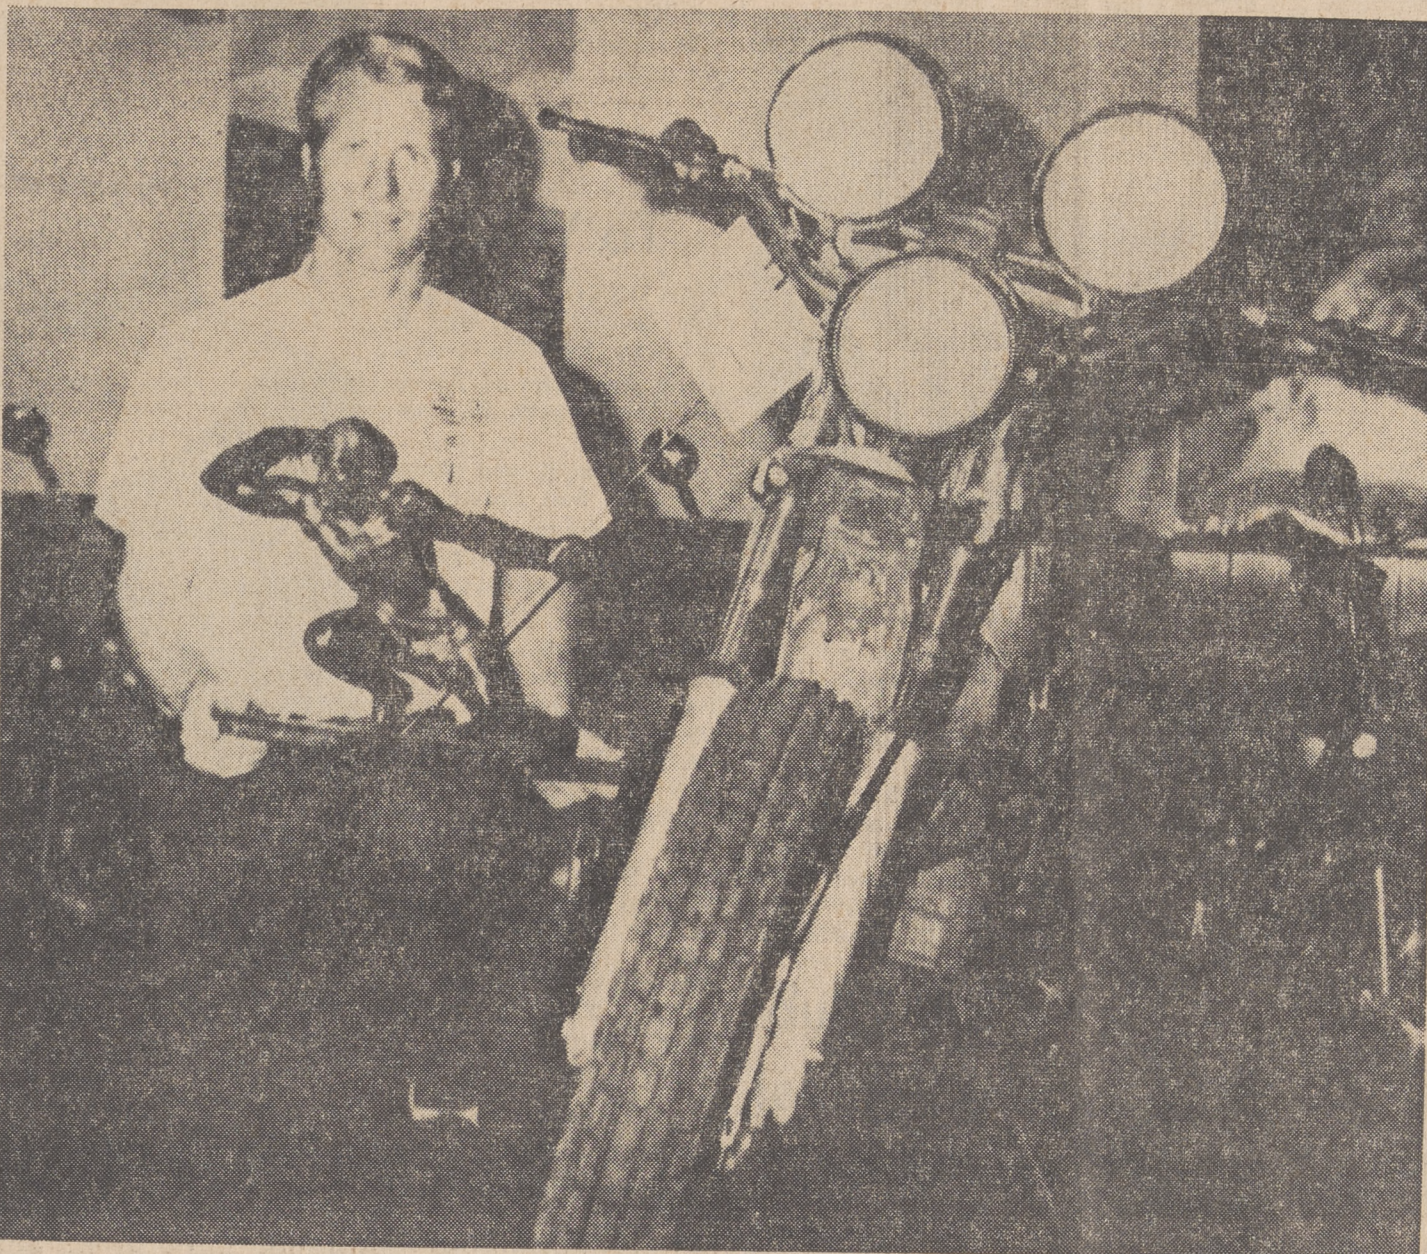

Included in the sale will be an old school bus, several record players, a refrigerator, gas stoves, school chairs and desks, and other items.

Bids must be submitted to the district office before June 30.

Rounding out items of interest at the meeting was a report from assistant superintendent Paul Reynolds on the approval of the Imperial-80 planned residential development.

The approval by the county planning commission was granted only for that portion of the project that lies outside the school district boundaries and only after a reduction in the number of units.

The approval may be appealed, Reynolds indicated.

BAJA CHAMP — Billy Silverthorn, service manager at Honda of Lemon Grove, displays the trophy he won last week as first place finisher in the motorcycle division of the Baja 500 off-road race. Silverthorn, and co-driver Gene Fetty, piloted the 250cc Honda over the grueling course in just over 12 hours and near record time while finishing fourth overall. The bike, and the trophy, are on display at the Honda shop, which furnished the bike for Silverthorn.

LG Motorcyclist Bill Silverthorn Wins 'Baja 500' Off-Road Race

Lemon Grove is the home of the champion.

Billy Silverthorn, service manager at Honda of Lemon Grove, is the champion off-road motorcycle rider after last week's victory in the Baja 500.

Silverthorn co-piloted a brand new 250cc Honda dirt bike to first place in the motorcycle division and fourth place overall in the Baja, which has been considered the super bowl of off-road racing.

The Baja consists of 537 miles of pavement, dirt, sand, rocks, mountains, and generally less than perfect driving conditions. It has caused broken axles, broken legs, flat tires, lost wheels, blown engines and numerous profanities, often uttered by lost or injured drivers.

For Silverthorn, who had benefit of daylight hours, everything went according to schedule until an ignition switch went out. He quickly diagnosed the problem, however, and wired past the switch and was on the road again, losing only "six or seven minutes".

Other than that slight problem, the bike ran perfectly for Silverthorn, who was aided by business and personal friends at each check point along the route.

What could have been disaster, but wasn't, struck his partner, Fetty, who broke a drive chain on his half of the race. Fortunately, another Honda rider came by soon with a spare chain and the team was back in the race.

There was a back-up rider who carried spare parts for the two, but had Fetty been forced to wait for the back-up, a lot more than the 20 minutes would have been lost.

Silverthorn and Fetty, among the favorites in the race, beat the odds-on favorite Malcolm Smith, who broke a leg early in the race trying to make up lost time after mechanical trouble.

Another local driver, John Johnson, who raced in the four-wheel competition, was leading the entire field and looked like the winner, but got lost late in the race while driving at night.

Judge Prescribes Methadone For Lemon Grove Man

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Lemon Grove cabinet maker, who pleaded guilty to stealing tools at El Cajon's Unimart store, was put on three years' probation Friday in Superior Court.

Fernando John Tellez, 33, of 1703-69th st., Lemon Grove, was arrested by El Cajon police on Dec. 19, and the records show he told them he stole the tools as Christmas gifts.

His offense was a misdemeanor, but was adjudged a felony due to a prior conviction. Judge William P. Mahedy on March 1 sent Tellez to Chino for diagnostic evaluation, after a report that he was using drugs.

Probation was on the condition that Tellez enroll in the Methadone program, designed to break the use of heroin habit.

Rate Changes, Increase Seen For Helix District

By John Nicholson

The Helix Irrigation District board of directors is seeking alternatives for halting the depletion of reserve funds due to rising water and operational costs.

Two weeks ago, directors were presented with the results of a study by the firm of Wilsey and Ham. The study was authorized last year and was to cost no more than $16,000.

Recommendations of the study involved several alternatives, including changing the district's current spiraling rate structure and employing a standard meter charge based on the size of meters.

Spiraling Rate

The spiraling rate structure provides a smaller per-unit charge for those water users who use larger amounts. For example, water users are charged 50 cents per 100 cu-feet of water if they use less than 500 feet. The rate posed change would decrease to the point that those who use a great amount of water, such as agricultural operations, while having a lesser affect on smaller water users.

Decrease Doubtful

It is unlikely that the proposed change would decrease the bills of the average user, because most use over 5,000 cubic feet and are paying less than a probable uniform rate would require.

The standard meter-size service charge would call for an additional charge on a water bill, varying with the size of the water meter.

For example, the district has meter sizes ranging from 5/8 of an inch to eight inches. The system would call for a service charge of a certain amount for all water users with a 5/8 of an inch meter. The service charge could be varied up or down as the size of the meter grew.

Combination Eyed

At last Wednesday's meeting, directors of the district discussed the alternatives and were apparently leaning toward a combination of the meter-size service charge and the standard unit-rate system.

One of the problems involved in moving to the new system is getting there. If the district were to change to the new system immediately, the results could be devastating to those who use great amounts of water, possibly even forcing agricultural operations into financial mayhem.

With this in mind, directors asked the rate study firm to bring a plan to the yesterday's meeting which would move the district to the system gradually over a five-year period.

Additional Cost

The plan will cost the district additional money over what has already been spent on the rate study, but it is expected that it will remain far below the $16,000 maximum authorized for the study. So far, approximately $4,000 has been spent.

In other action at the meeting, directors looked over the proposed 1972-73 budget, which shows a $1.3 million deficit between expected funds based on existing rates and increased operational costs.

Directors will undoubtedly trim as much as possible from the budget, but will probably be unable to meet expenses without a rate hike of up to

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Spanish road signs can be very vital to drivers who venture below the border. "Siga" means "go" or "continue." The negative of this would be "No Siga" for "Don't continue" or "Don't go."

"Angonsto" is the word for "narrow." This may be seen on signs designating "Puente Angosto" (Narrow Bridge) or "Camino Angosto" for "Narrow Road."

"Bajada" means "Downgrade" and this may appear with the expression "Freno con el motor" which suggests that the driver "Slow down by using low gears."

"Modere su velocidad" could be converted to "Moderate your velocity" but in basic terms it means "Slow down." This type of a sign might appear with an additional notice

"Poblado proximo," for "Town Ahead."

"Peligro" is translated to "Danger." This warning might be followed by the expression "Paso a nivel" which means "Railroad crossing."

"Prohibido" should be easy for us to determine the meaning because of the similarity with its English equivalent "Prohibited." This may appear with notices like "Prohibido el estacionamiento" which means "Parking is Prohibited" and "Prohibido volver a la izquierda" for "It is prohibited to make a left turn," or more simply "No left turn."

"Velocidad maxima" looks like it should mean "Maximum velocity." It is more approximately translated "Speed Limit." The number appear with this notice are in kilometers. This means that the sign "Velocidad Maxima-100" would be translated to "Speed Limit—60 (miles per hour)." Phrases listed below contain some of the vital road sign expression. A recorded voice will say them for you when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES
Say Siga usted derecho." (SEE-gas oo-STEHD deh-REH-cho); for Go straight ahead."

Say El camino es angosto." (ehl kah-MEE-noh ehs ahn-GOHS-toh) for "The road is narrow." Say "Modere su velocidad." (moh-DEH-reh soo veh-lohs-see-DAHR) for "Slow down."

Say "Poblado proximo." (poh-BLAH-toh PROHX-see-moh) for "Town near."

Say "Prohibido volver a la izquierda." (proh-bee-VEH-toh vohl-VEHR for "No left turn." ah lah eez-kee-EHR-thah).

I crossed Broadway for a tasty grilled cheese sandwich served by a small restaurant there and found it dark. No lights, no electricity. So I had a cold sandwich, and, wouldn't you know? Just as I was finishing it the lights came on.

Strangers came in and soon everyone knew each other. Walking along Broadway, shopkeepers stood in the doorways. Everyone had a quip, a cheerful greeting, a sharing friendliness and warmth.

The rain gave more than needed wetness to the land — and the people.

Chapman Due In Starlight's 'South Pacific'

William Chapman, who proved to be the overwhelming favorite leading man of the 1971 Starlight Summer Musicals Season with his electrifying portrayal of the King in "The King and I," has been signed to star this season in United States International University's opening Starlight Summer Musical, "South Pacific," it was announced today by Gordon Hilker, producer.

Hilker also named the creative staff for the 1972 Starlight Summer Musicals which are produced by USIU's Center for the Performing Arts in association with the San Diego Civic Light Opera Association.

Chapman, with his bravura performance and his magnificent singing voice, won the plaudits of critics and audiences last summer as the King in "The King and I." We feel certain his portrayal this season as the imposing Emile DeBeque in "South Pacific" will win for us many new patrons and for himself, even more admirers," Hilker said.

Chapman, who has the qualities of being able to combine major operatic and musical comedy triumphs, has been appearing in New York, Honolulu and throughout the United States since his role last August in Starlight. He sang lead roles in both seasons of the New York City Opera, playing the title role in Boito's "Mefistofele" and the Torreador in Bizet's "Carmen."

All clubs meet during the last hour of school one day each week.

"There books", Faucher said, "carry the reader on an eventful journey from Columbus' to the Apollo 15 landing on the moon."

He said the supply is limited.

Shooting Rapids is Safe Swimming is Leg-Breaker

Jack Durham, that indomitable insurance man of 7616 Pacific st. in Lemon Grove, has had another visit to a hospital. He has extensive surgery a year and a half ago. This hospitalization was in Arizona, the result of a broken-leg incident on the floor of the Grand Canyon.

Having completed three days of a four-day trip safely shooting the rapid of the Little Colorado, Durham, in a party of 28 other rapid-shooters, took a cooling swim. The swift water carried him against submerged rocks and his leg was broken at his ankle. He was lifted from the canyon floor by helicopter for hospital treatment.

Now for the good news! He didn't have to take the full day hike up the mountain trail to the rim of the canyon as the other 27 people did.

Durham said he had trained for nearly five months to be able to make the climb by regularly hiking to the summit of Mt. Helix to get in shape.

The emergency room hospital attendant hardly raised an eyebrow when Durham was brought in. "Another one?" he asked the ambulance driver as though Grand Canyon accidents are regular occurrences.

This week Durham laid aside his crutches in favor of a leg walker.

"I'm ready to go again," he told friends.

Top Children's Productions Get A.C.T. Awards

The Associated Community Theatres of San Diego last week held its annual awards banquet for children's theatre. Awards were presented by Mrs. Preston Foster and master of ceremonies was Daniel Cody, of Lemon Grove.

Taming of the Shrew, staged at Actor's Quarter, swept most of the awards. It earned the best production award, and earned Dixie Sackett the best direction award.

Judy Weiner earned the best actress in a lead role for her efforts in the production, and Jean Marcel was named the best actor in a lead for his role in the play. Tony Dimase earned the best major supporting actor award for his role in "Shrew" and the best actor in a minor supporting role was earned by Jim Carter, also in the play.

Witches' Brew, another Actor's Quarter play for children, earned the remaining awards. Patricia Law Garland was named best actress in a minor supporting role and Christina Brown received the best actress in a major support award.

L.G. Planning Association Postpones General Meeting

The scheduled general meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association of June 22 was postponed last week by the executive committee of the Association when it was learned that special districts now reviewing tentative goals of the Association needed more time to complete screening and recommendations.

Ben Ela, vice-chairman of the association, led last week's meeting in the absence of chairman Jim Dorman. Ela noted that the next general membership meeting of the Association will be held in September.

Further discussion of goals and any changes or recommended revisions found necessary will be studied during the summer, and it is felt that goals will be ready for presentation to the community by September.

Postponement of next week's scheduled meeting was discovered necessary when representatives of the county planning department indicated that more time would be needed for screening.

The screening process involves sending copies of the final tentative goals to various special districts, such as local fire protection district, the school district, and other agencies involved in service to the Lemon Grove community.

Due to the varying meeting dates for each district, it often takes a good deal of time to complete the screening process and make recommendations. Many districts have little time during the end of the fiscal year, as budgets are being prepared for next fiscal year.

Lynn Skinner, associate planner with the planning department, was on hand at last week's meeting to discuss the merits of mini-parks and green belt areas as compared with the larger community parks.

After discussion, it was recommended that mini-parks would be in the best interest of Lemon Grove. That recommendation is compatible with tentative goals of the association.

Verna Quinn, representing the Broadway Heights Community Council, made a request at the meeting that the association work with her group in securing a park for the Broadway Heights area.

The Broadway Heights area is actually within the San Diego city limits, but also lies in the Lemon Grove School District. A park constructed in the area would be used by both residents of San Diego and of Lemon Grove.

It was agreed that the two groups would work together to implement park planning in the area. The planning association has already requested Supervisor Henry Boney to initiate action leading to construction of a park in the area.

The next meeting of the executive committee has been scheduled for July 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Golden Avenue School. It is expected that discussion will center around reactions to tentative goals.

Lewis To Teach Talk Techniques

Fred Lewis, veteran San Diego newscaster, will show teachers the techniques of his profession in a University of California Extension course beginning Monday.

Lewis a talk show host for KSDO Radio, will teach "Speech for the Classroom Teacher," a course emphasizing voice production, lecturing and oral interpretation.

In addition to his 22 years in radio and television broadcasting, Lewis holds a masters degree in public speaking from Marquette U. He also serves as the voice of professional basketball and hockey at the Sports Arena.

The course will meet Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. June 19 through July 17 in Room 355, Roosevelt Junior High School.

Passenger travel is still popular in Great Britain and income in 1970 increased 11 per cent over the previous year.

DOUBLE PLAY ATTEMPT — Spring Valley Bobby Sox action last week included this play, in which the second baseman wheels for a quick throw to first base after making a force out at second. The play was unsuccessful. Action in the league takes place each weeknight at 5:30 p.m. and all day Saturday, at the field on the Bancroft Elementary School playground. (Vince Broesch photo)

Lionettes, Orioles In Battle For First Place

The Lemon Grove Lions Club Lionettes, buried in fourth place two weeks ago, came from nowhere last week to tie with the Severin, Garzenelli and Stenbeck Orioles for the top spot in the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League.

The Lionettes first took on the front-running Orioles and pulled out a come-from-behind victory. Trailing 8-5 after five innings, the Lionettes scored four times in the sixth inning to take the lead, while the Orioles battled back with a single tally to tie things up. In the final frame, the Lionettes pushed across the winning run.

Prior to the game, the Lionettes were a full game in back of the leader in a third place tie. The victory tied the Orioles, the Lionettes, the Len's of Lemon Grove Fashionettes, and the Michael's House of Sight and Sound Quasarettes for the league lead.

The Quasarettes, tied for third at the beginning of the week, moved up into the tie via a forfeit from the Lido's Pizza Spicers. The Fashionettes, half a game out of first at the beginning of play, was rained out prior to the show-down game, missing a chance to move into first all alone.

Mary Browne Takes Pony

Mary Browne Realty won three games last week to move into first place in the second-half season of the Spring Valley Pony League.

Mary Browne opened the week's play with a hard-earned 3-2 decision over Musser and Son. Mary Browne tallied twice in the second inning, but Musser battled back to tie things up in the top of the third inning. In the bottom of the inning, Mary Browne added the winning run.

The next test for Mary Browne was the Giants, and Mary Browne sent nine batters to the plate in the seventh inning to score six runs for the margin of victory, 13-7. Included in the inning was a home run by Ernie Nuno.

The Dodgers provided Mary Browne with opposition in the third game, which Mary Browne took by a 2-0 count. Ken Hallin tossed a four-hitter for the winner, striking out 15 batters. Hallin also aided his own cause with a solo homer in the second inning.

In other action, IED Conic Corporation won its first game of the second half season after winning the first-half pennant. The victory came at the expense of the Giants, who fell, 5-1, on J. P. Koval's no-hitter.

Rounding out the week's games were the Dodgers win over Musser and Son, 6-3, and Musser's victory over IED, 6-2. The win for Musser was the first of the year.

A look at the standings shows Mary Browne on top at 4-1, the Dodgers in second place with a 2-1 record, followed by the Giants at 2-2 in third place. Tied for the cellar are Musser and IED at 1-3.

The Fashionettes had another chance to take the lead when they were paired with the Southwest Leasing and Car Rental Lessees, but missed the opportunity by dropping a 13-4 decision. The game was close until the seventh frame when the Lessees tallied seven times to ice the victory.

The Orioles then moved out front with a 30-22 decision over the Quasarettes, which also sent the Quasarettes into a third place tie with the Fashionettes. The game went into extra innings when both teams were tied with 19 runs apiece after regulation play. The Orioles tallied eleven runs to sew up the win.

The Lionettes, then in second place, beat the Lessees, 10-9, to move into the tie with the Orioles. Again, it was the come-from-behind tactics of the Lionettes which spelled victory. Trailing 6-0, the Lionettes took up the charge in the fourth inning for the win.

The Shaklee Products Nibblers upset the Quasarettes to knock them into fourth place, while the Fashionettes beat the Quota Club Midgets for third place. In the only other game of the week, the Midgets beat the Nibblers.

A million automobiles were produced in one year for the first time in 1916.

Luigi's Beats Berg To Tie For League Lead

Luigi's Restaurant defeated Berg Electric, 3-0, to move the two teams back into a tie for first place in the Spring Valley Little League standings.

Luigi's game in back of Berg as play began, sent Jeff Whitley to the mound for the shutout. The victory was the scheduled second of two games, but the first encounter was rained out and will be rescheduled.

Dial Finance missed a chance to move up on the leaders by dropping a 12-10 decision to S.V. Kiwanis before winning a 1-0 decision from the same team.

In the first contest, Kiwanis was trailing 8-2 after four and a half innings, but came up with 10 runs in the bottom of the fifth frame to take the lead. Dial fought back with a pair of runs in the sixth, but the rally fell short.

In the second contest, a pitchers' battle saw Ernie Miller toss a one-hit shutout for Dial, while Neal Prodzinski's one-hitter was wasted for Kiwanis.

In other games, Jackson Supply blitzed Post Office, 4-1 and Moose Lodge shocked S&H Martinizing, 5-4. Vern Cramer blasted a two-run homer for the losers in the Moose-Martinizing affair.

In the intermediate league, just two games were played. Boosters beat Tea Pot Inn, 7-3, and Niccoli Racers knocked off Art's Lumber, 6-4. The games marked the end of the first-half season, with Mission Bay Concrete nailing down the pennant.

In the minor league, Stroh's Lomita Bowl continued unbeaten in the second-half season by taking S.V. Shopping Center twice, 6-2 and 5-0.

Pat's Rentals, tied for first last week, suffered a pair of defeats to fall into a second place tie. S.V. Fire Department did the dirty work, taking 18-6 and 11-8 wins from Pat's, moving into the tie.

In the rookie league, Jackson was tied for second place at the beginning of the week's play, but league leader Foster's Freeze dropped two games to give the pennant to Jackson.

Weekend Radio Is 'On the Go'

News and Conversation station KSDO (1130 khz) is developing a new concept in "all news" radio, especially for weekends in San Diego.

Starting with the fact that San Diego is the number one participation sports city in the world (according to SPORTS ILLUSTRATED) with a vast range of weekend recreational activities available, KSDO created its "On-the-Go" weekend concept.

The program features almost continuous recreational news, starting early Saturday and Sunday mornings and running non-stop until early evening. World and local news twice an hour, plus two complete sports reports per hour are part of the total information package.

"On-the-Go" with KSDO evolved from the original title, "The Get Away From It All" weekend. Featuring hourly reports on mass activities: i.e. beach reports, ocean, bay and harbor reports, golf starting times, tennis court crowding, traffic conditions, parking lot loads, etc. "On-the-Go" will also cover in depth those recreational activities that give San Diego its unique

Murphy Drops Pair Of Games

Midnight took its toll on the "Cinderella" team of the Sky-Grove Pony League last week, enabling Hutchinson Roofing to grab first place in the standing.

Murphy Plumbing, last place finisher during the first-half season, jumped away the first week of the second half campaign with a couple of quick victories and added two more during the second week to top the league.

The league lead disappeared last week, however, when the Plumbers dropped two of three games to Hutchinson Roofing.

In the first contest, John Tumalu twirled a three-hitter for Murphy and four infield errors by Hutchinson enabled the Plumbers to gain a 5-2 victory.

Craig Leonetti, however, signalled the midnight toll, with a two-run homer that provided the margin of victory for the Roofers in the second game, a 4-2 affair. In the third contest, Dave Taluhan tossed a two-hitter for the roofers and booming bats spelled a 13-1 disaster for Murphy in a game called after five frames on the wide margin rule.

In other games, Ned's Outboard swept three games from Ebco Steel to move into second place, half a game behind Hutchinson and percentage points ahead of Murphy.

Ned's victories included 13-1, 7-3, and 2-0 margins, the last game a one-hitter by Earl Ritchey.

In the only other games played, the Lion's Club split two games with Lido's Pizza winning the first game 8-3, before dropping the nightcap, 2-0, on a three-hitter by Mark Foster.

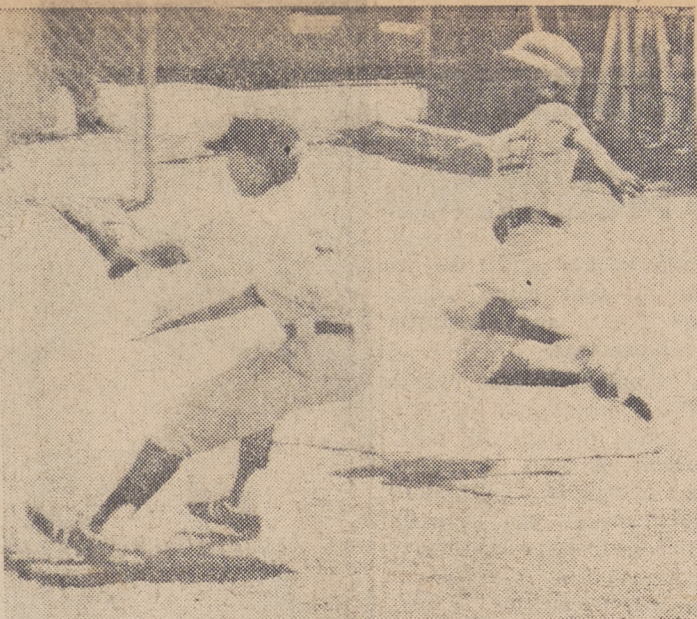

Fairest Of Fair Named By Expo

Lauren Rose McGuire, 18, a green-eyed brunette sophomore at United States International University in San Diego, will reign over the 83rd Southern California Exposition, June 27-July 9 as Fairest of the Fair, Exposition officials announced.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McGuire, Fallbrook, Lauren is 5'8", 125 lbs., and qualified for the Fairest of the Fair finals by winning the Miss Peninsula title.

Barbara Kotnick, 17, Miss Lemon Grove and a senior at Mt. Miguel High School is fourth runner-up.

Fireworks and Free Helmets Will Mark Padres Homestand

Helmets and fireworks will headlight the homestand when the Padres return to San Diego Stadium June 23 for an 11-game stay.

Fifteen thousand Padres souvenir batting helmets will be distributed, compliments of Lets Dine Out, to boys and girls 14 and under, attending the Friday night opener against the San Francisco Giants.

Then on Saturday, July 1, the Padres will present the traditional God Bless America Night topped by a gigantic post-game fireworks show.

Also included in the pre-holiday celebration and part of God Bless America Week will be a patriotic on-field pageant prior to that evening's game between the Padres and the Cincinnati Reds.

Both attractions, helmets and fireworks, figure to encourage a large attendance and fans are urged to purchase their tickets as promptly as possible.

Earlier this season, more than 35,000 persons attended a Bat Night promotion and the God Bless America fireworks show last year appealed to more than 40,000 fans, the largest crowd ever to watch a baseball contest in San Diego Stadium.

Hughes, Anderson Drafted By Gulls

A former player under General Manager/Coach Max McNab and a National Hockey League veteran make up the two players chosen in the recent reverse draft held at the hockey meetings in Montreal.

Howie Hughes, who played under Max McNab in Vancouver for two seasons was drafted from the L. A. Kings organization. Ron Anderson, veteran of all or part of five seasons in the NHL, was chosen from Buffalo.

Hughes can play right wing and center and played last season in Seattle with the Totems. He totaled 46 points with 17 goals and 29 assists placing him second on the team in scoring. A veteran WHL performer, Hughes also has seen action in the NHL with the L. A. Kings.

"Hughes is a proven, sound hockey player," said Max McNab, about the 33 year old veteran. "When Howie played for me in Vancouver he played on the same line as Bill McNeill (former Gull) when he had his greatest scoring years."

"Hughes is also an excellent penalty killer," McNab added.

The other draftee, Ron Anderson, split time last year between Salt Lake City and Buffalo. Also a wing, Anderson has seen action with the Detroit Red Wings, Los Angeles Kings, St. Louis Blues and Buffalo Sabres of the NHL.

TOP NURSING STUDENTS — Leane Pearson, left, a graduate of Monte Vista High School, Patricia Curtis, of Lemon Grove, Vicki Jackson of Brookside, and Christine Brewer, of La Mesa, display their trophies after the recent California nursing student competition, which featured 230 contestants from throughout the state. Vicki Jackson took first place in nursing skills, Pat Curtis was tops in the prepared speech category, and Christine Brewer was the winner in the job interview competition. Leane Pearson prepared the local club's formal presentation, which saw the local girls claim "Outstanding Club of California" laurels. All four girls are members of the Grossmont High School District chapter of V.I.C.A., the organization which sponsored the competition. The next stop for the three first place winners will be the nationals in Virginia July 8-15. The club is presently raising funds via car washes and bake sales to finance the trip. Two other local entries, Mara Candelaria and Christine Buffo, both of Lemon Grove, earned trophies at the competition. Both earned second place awards.

Avondale To Stay On Nine Month Program

A group of concerned parents of students attending Avondale School in South Spring Valley were reassured that the school will continue on the nine-month program next year.

Dr. James Runge, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, indicated at Tuesday's board meeting there are currently no plans to switch to the year-round program at the school.

The only school which will be changed over to the 45-15 day plan during the 1972-73 year will be Bancroft Elementary School. Bancroft will be the fourth school to go on the extended year, which features 45 days of school, followed by 15 days of vacation for youngsters, rather than nine months of school and three months of summer vacation.

The need for the year-round program has been approaching the district for the past several years, as residential and population growth in the South Spring Valley area has increased faster than necessary schools have been built.

By utilizing the 45-15 plan, 25% more students can be taught at a school. Parents of students attending year-round schools have the option of sending their youngsters to a nearby conventional school.

Avondale has been used as a school for students whose parents dislike the 45-15 plan.

Color Sports Heroes 'Colorful'

by John E. Wirges

It seems a favorite pastime these days to long for yesterday, when beer was a nickel (or dime, if you're a new old-timer) and the world of fun and frolic was full of individuals that could be properly classified as "characters."

"The color has gone out of the game," cry these self-styled historians. "Everybody now-a-days is all business. They take the fun out of being a fan. There are no 'Dizzy' Dean's or Bronko Nagurski's anymore. Everybody today sounds like a lawyer."

Halt. Stop. Desist. Talk like that is almost un-American. I submit that today's world of athletic greats has as many nuts to the carload as has ever been the case in the past. And that term is not used to be derogatory. On the contrary, men of color, both past and present, have done much in making sports in general, and spectator sports in particular, the dollars and cents success they are today.

Without the characters, folks, I'm afraid that pro-sports would still be played on Sunday afternoon for whatever could be collected in the passing hat.

And that is true today more than ever before. The number of "characters" per team probably remains the same, but there are more teams these days.

A story goes that Bronko Nagurski was recruited by a Minnesota scout when that worthy stopped by the side of the road and asked directions to the next town. Nagurski, 'tis said, picked up his plow and pointed the way.

Can that story hold up next to one they tell of former San Diego Charger defensive tackle Ron Billingsley and the goat? You be the judge.

Billingsley, a down country-boy from Gadsden, Alabama, and his bride were living in Pacific Beach before his trade to Houston last year. The grass got out of control and Billingsley is supposed to have purchased a goat with the idea of eating the grass down lawn level.

The goat, 'tis said, was young and clumsy, kept getting itself tangled in its lead rope, didn't like grass and made loud noises like a goat. The neighbors complained and called the animal law.

In due course the friendly fuzz arrived on the scene and told Billingsley to (1) take better care of the goat and (2) keep it quiet or they, the friendly fuzz, would take it away.

Billingsley, the tale goes, then shot the goat and gave it to the fuzz.

He may never make the NFL's Hall of Fame as a player, and then again maybe he will, but Ron Billingsley certainly has carved a niche for himself in the modern listings of "colorful" participants of the game.

Fred Dryer, former San Diego State defensive stalwart currently playing for the Los Angeles Rams, is another PR man's dream. In this day of extremely high salaries and bonuses, Dryer found a way to save his loot. He lives in a Volkswagon bus.

"I bring my home with me," he said when asked where he lives in the off-season. He lives in, around and near the shores of Pacific Beach and La Jolla most of the summer.

"I have a refrigerator and a hibachi. At home (which is wherever) or on the road I do some cooking. I have a stereo and a good reading lamp, everything I need."

Needless to say, Dryer is single. He still has problems, however, and not the kind everybody could appreciate.

"My major expense has been parking tickets," he admitted. "I often wake up in the morning with a ticket on my windshield."

He'd fit in Damon Runyon's world.

Then add the shy Lamar Hunt of the Kansas City Chiefs. He gives players little or no credit for winning championships. "In my opinion coaching is 95 per cent of professional football," he says. It is safe to assume that not one member of the players association agrees with him.

Sid Gillman might go along with Hunt's philosophy, if not the degree. But his tactics don't always work out.

Gillman, a close friend here, missed out in making the finals of the Dewar's Celebrity Tennis Tournament held Monday at La Costa, despite applying his winning football format in building his game plan.

While others clinked glasses and enjoyed the generosity of the Honorable John Dewar in the comfort of La Costa plushness, Gillman retired early to prepare. He spent six hours Sunday evening looking at tennis films, both offensive and defensive.

La Jolla resident Charlie Jones, who's smiling face and deep tones telecast major sports events across the nation, earned the finals of the Dewar's media flight, but he and his partner Al Stevens fell before the craft and talent of San Diego Union sportswriter Jerry McGee and his playing partner Murray Olderman.

"I think I over-trained," explained Jones. "I peaked too soon."

About 2 a.m. at Bully's West," came the honest reply.

With spirits like these, it is wasteful to yearn for yesterday. The pride and color of men of today need take no back seat to those who have gone before.

Last year Padre pitcher Fred Norman earned a spot in the hearts of all men with an unusual salute. He was frustrated by bad luck all season, ending with a 3-13 record despite a 3.33 ERA.

He expressed his feelings in finally whipping the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 on Sept. 16 by doing a back flip off the mound.

Such are the men of color today.

Calm Before Vacation Storm at Youth Center

It's a sort of calm before the vacation storm that has fallen on the Lemon Grove Youth Center, according to Dale Wood, director.

He and the corps of youngsters frequenting the place on Schoof lane in Lemon Grove, are getting the facility spic-and-span for the holidays.

The walls have been washed down. So have the windows and door canopies. Some new furniture, contributed by local families, has been installed. While all of this was going on Director Wood received his degree in education at State College.

He said that the major problem that will come with school vacation when the Center will face the chore of sapping off youthful energies that before then went to schools. He is seeking projects such as wall or fence painting, or cleanup jobs. Nominal fees collected will be used for outings for the youngsters.

More people have helped by subscribing to this newspaper.

A portion ($2.50) goes to the salesperson and the Center. The solicitor gets $2, the Center gets 50 cents. If a youngster makes the sale the Center gets it all.

State To Say 'Goodbye' To PC2A; 'Hello' to PAC-8

San Diego State said this week what they had been saying right along—they're leaving the Pacific Coast Athletic Association.

The more-or-less definite admission was made by Dr. Kenneth Karr, Aztec athletic director. Leaving PC2A gives State a leg up on trying for PAC-8 opponents. The Aztecs will leave PC2A June 30, 1973. The football team has already booked Oregon State in a game here in 1972. The Aztecs will play there in 1975.

Other conference teams "not entirely out of reach" include Washington, Washington State and Oregon. Toward the rainbow's end is UCLA and USC.

The basketball team is in a more favorable position. Coach Dick Davis' hoop team is a crackjack but he is quick to point out that it only takes a couple of good players to make a good hoop team.

With football, the personnel load is a heavier burden. Dr. Karr also noted that California State University, San Diego, a new name and status acquired as of June 1, is in negotiations to have the name simplified to San Diego State University.

College Gives Annual Awards

Awarded special gold griffin statuette for outstanding service to the ASGC were Joseph L. McMenamin, Spring Valley, Grossmont College faculty; Michael Valverde, El Cajon, college bookstore manager; Earl Miller, La Mesa, manager, Fletcher Hills Branch, Bank of America; Sue Ellen Wilkins, Pacific Beach, director of the college Child Care Center, and student Gary Eijelm, El Cajon. Hjelm received a special award for introducing an innovative discount ticket program at the college.

Lemonettes To March In Oceanside Parade

The Lemonettes, a group of Lemon Grove businessmen, will be on hand at Oceanside's Old Mission San Luis Rey Fiesta this month.

The group, which is escorted by such outstanding personalities as Mr. Lem N. Grove, Lemon Drip, and Lemon Drop, will perform in a special twilight parade Saturday evening at 6 p.m.

The parade will be held on Pacific st. near the waterfront and will also include marching bands and floats.

'Big Jack' In 'Must' Fight With Clark

California heavyweight champion Henry Clark of San Francisco meets Jack Jolla's entry in the fistie world, Jack O'Halloran, in a 10-round main event Friday night at the San Diego Coliseum.

Clark is a classy, well-conditioned boxer who in his only local showing stopped Chuck Haynes one year ago with a second-round knockout. Friday's fight will not be a title defense for Clark.

O'Halloran has tabbed the bout "a must win" one and has trained hard since taking a decision May 24 from Fred "Preacher" Lewis. Giant Jack should come in at about 240, his best fighting weight. He owns a 27-14-2 pro record and has become a very popular addition to the local fight scene since his classic brawl March 16 here against Ken Norton.

Clark, at 6-2 1/2 and 218 pounds, will not be giving away much in size and has the distinction of having never been off his feet in eight years a professional. He has a 30-6-2 record including seven rounds with the late Sonny Liston in 1968.

Preliminary bouts start at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 ring-side, $7 reserved and $5 general admission.

Mrs. Pickering Feted by PTG at Santa Sophia

The Parent-Teachers Group of Santa Sophia Academy in Spring Valley held a surprise farewell luncheon on Monday for Mrs. Josephine Pickering, who is retiring after ten years of teaching kindergarten and fourth grade. Santa Sophia's first enrollment was in 1959 and Mrs. Pickering has the longest teaching record of the faculty.

The luncheon was held in the Santa Sophia Convent patio, with tables gaily decorated in spring flowers, under colorful umbrellas. Mrs. Robert Davison was Chairman of Luncheon Plans, with Principal Sister Claire Lebreux, Mrs. John O'Hea, this year's outgoing president, and Mrs. Henry Adema, incoming president for the next school year, acting as hostesses. The entire faculty, Father John Verhoeven, Pastor, and a large group of parents attended the luncheon to shower Mrs. Pickering with gifts and say their farewells.

Mrs. Pickering is planning a trip with her daughter and son-in-law through Germany, Italy, France and Switzerland in the fall of this year and upon her return will work at her hobby of arts and crafts.

Storm Total Is .45 Inches

There are those who say a slow, steady drizzle is good—for weeds.

If that is so the east county will have an abundant growth this summer. Last week's drizzles were slow and they were steady—almost a half-inch fell in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley areas.

By dates the score was June 6, .24 inches; 7th, .07; 8, .01; 9, .05 and 10, .08 for a storm total of .45 inches.

That brought the season's total to 6.42 which compares with 11.03 for the same period last season. The season is about over. It ends June 30. Rainfall days end at 4 p.m.

Low Bid Listed On Traffic Light Project

Arrow Electric of Lemon Grove submitted a low bid of $36,178 for the installation of traffic signals in Coronado, the state Division of Highways indicated.

The bid is now under consideration by the state director of public works, with installation expected to begin within 30 days.

Mt. Miguel Principal To Take New Post

Secondary teaching, and Pupils Personnel Services. He took his Bachelor of Arts degree from San Diego State in 1947, and completed his Masters degree at that institution in 1952.

He has been a member of the Chula Vista Chamber of Commerce, and has served on the board of directors of Camp Fire Girls and of the Boys Club, and has been active in YMCA work.

The appointment by the board followed screening of candidates by a four-member committee consisting of the adult school director, one adult school teacher, the associate superintendent, and the assistant superintendent for personnel.

With Grant to leave Mt. Miguel, the search for a replacement was launched last week.

Among those who are expected to be carefully considered are Dr. Robert Pyle, assistant principal at Mt. Miguel, Don Tarr, assistant director of the district's special education program and former vice principal and counselor at Mt. Miguel, and Bob Divine, Monte Vista High School vice principal.

Dr. Pyle, in his second year at Mt. Miguel, has been with the district for several years and has been close to Mt. Miguel students and teachers. He also can add excellent relations with the community to his credits.

Bob Divine has put in several years as vice principal at Monte Vista High School and is also familiar with the community.

Don Tarr, who left Mt. Miguel a few years ago in favor of the special education post, was the community relations and the familiarity with the school. He served for a year as vice principal of the school when Grant was on sabbatical leave a few years ago.

In addition to Pyle, Tarr, and Divine, there are other good candidates among the approved list. Those on the list include:

Frank Cole, vice principal at the district's continuation school, Robert Daily, an instructor with special education; Virgil Duea, an assistant administrator at Mt. Miguel; Bob Fielder, vice principal at El Cajon Valley High; Wallace Gardner, Superintendent of the Mt. Empire School District; and Robert King, vice principal at El Capitan High.

Also, Lois Nossaman, vice principal at Santana High; Norman Robbins, vice principal at Helix High, currently on sabbatical leave; William Streshly, vice principal at Granite Hills on sabbatical; and Gordon Teaby, vice principal at Helix High.

Liquor Store Robbed

Grove Liquor, at 7254 Broadway in Lemon Grove was robbed last week by a lone gunman who escaped on foot with about $300 in cash.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect entered the store, picked up a carton of beer, then approached the counter and demanded money, displaying a blue steel automatic pistol, possibly a .25 or .32 caliber.

The suspect was described as a male Mexican, about 30 years old, standing about 5-11, weighing about 165 pounds. He wore dark grey pants and a maroon shirt and appeared to be left-handed, reports said.

Kent Gets MD Degree

Dr. Roderick S. Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kent, of 3012 South Bonita st., Spring Valley, was one of 115 students who received doctor of medicine degrees from the Saint Louis University Medical Center at commencement ceremonies.

Kent, a graduate of Monte Vista High School and the University of California at Los Angeles, where he received his B.S. Degree in 1968, is presently taking internship at U. S. Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Maryland.

INSTANT STRIPES — Modern county road striping replaces old hand-striping with slow-drying paints. The machine can put down three stripes at once, in yellow or white, solid or broken line. Paint used is put down hot, dries completely in less than 60 seconds. Shown here striping County road near Encinitas, machine is based in Jamacha Road Division I headquarters in Spring Valley.

County Maintains Enough Road To Reach Chicago

There are 5,400 miles of roads, freeways and streets within San Diego County. Of these, the County of San Diego is responsible for 2,200 miles, enough road to reach Chicago.

Desert sun, mountain snow, and 900,000 registered vehicles abuse the roads. It takes $1,500 to keep each mile of road in shape for a year, and 250 men are involved in this maintenance. Gasoline taxes and traffic fines provide the money for the work.

Deputy County Engineer for Operations, Jackson W. Settles, points out that his division is doing much more with almost no increase in staff over the last 20 years. "The number of actual miles we care for hasn't increased much, but there is more and heavier traffic which means constant widening and repaving of existing roads."

While roads are continually built for new subdivisions, in most cases these areas either incorporate or annex to a city, and road maintenance passes out of the County's responsibility, he said.

Settles explained that his is only one of four groups within the County Engineer's Department, and it relies on other departments of the Public Works Agency to carry out its functions efficiently. "For instance, the Communications Division of the General Services Department furnishes and maintains the radio-telephone network which ties the sub-stations and their major pieces of equipment to the County Engineer Department headquarters on Kearney Mesa. This helps equipment be ready to roll in a matter of minutes."

Settles is thoroughly familiar with all the problems of field maintenance. He started 34 years ago as an equipment operator and has come up through construction foreman and division superintendent to his present position.

He remembers when the repair facilities at Ramona were housed in an old horse barn, when road striping was done patiently by hand using slow-drying paints, when the County built roads as well as maintained them.

Now there are three divisions headquartered on Jamacha rd., Spring Valley, in Ramona and in San Marcos. Each has a completely equipped repair shop where all equipment maintenance is carried out; striping is done with a machine which stripes three lines at once, white or yellow, broken line or solid, at the push of a lever, and uses a hot paint which dries in less than 60 seconds.

All road construction is contracted out; the field divisions are kept busy with road maintenance. More modern equipment cuts the time required for many jobs for instance, truck-mounted snow plows clear the snow in one-third the time it used to take graders.

"We take care of all our own equipment with a full program of preventive maintenance," Settles said. "keeping it in top running condition for many extra years. Some pieces have been in use for more than 20 years; the average life for a bulldozer is 15 years and for a heavy truck from 200 to 300 thousand miles." Specialized equipment used for only a few months each year is rented to cut down on capital investment.

"We have a central mixing plant for making our own road oil mix, which is composed of granite and oil. We cover approximately 75 miles a year with this mix. In many cases it is used for widening as well as repairing road surfaces," said Settles.

Besides our own County roads, many small service areas — Division 3 out of San Marcos has 24 — contract with us for landscaping and street maintenance," relates Settles. "Most of these areas have nine or ten miles of road to be cared for, and payment comes from the people within the service area."

Helix Budget Cuts Expected

Budget sessions of the Helix Irrigation District Board of Directors got underway Monday with directors facing the task of reducing the $6.5 million proposed budget to a size more readily suited to expected revenue.

Currently, a $1.3 million deficit looms between the proposed budget and the expected $5.2 million income of the district for 1972-73.

Operational costs, which include proposed water purchases of $1.7 million, will reach about $4 million during the next fiscal year, according to figures in the preliminary budget.

Other operational costs include meter and line maintenance costs of over $200,000, pumping expenses of nearly that amount, relocation costs and street improvements of $80,000, and salary hikes of about $50,000.

Capital expenditures, including construction projects and bonded indebtedness are expected to reach over $1.6 million. It is anticipated that the district will be forced to raise water rates in the coming fiscal year to offset the current budget deficit or a remaining deficit after final approval of budget, which is expected to take place in the first week of July.

Tax-Rate Down

With a possible rate, local property owners, at least, will get a break, as a substantial drop in the tax rate is expected. The present tax rate is about 17 cents per $100 assessed valuation and it may drop as low as eight or nine cents for 1972-73.

Decisions on the tax rate, the budget, and the water rates were expected at yesterday's meeting, and full details will be available next week.
